Grants funded under Streams 1 and 2 are intended to support large-scale interdisciplinary research programs that drive implementation of substantial improvements to health care and/or health system effectiveness.

Applications will be assessed against the assessment criteria described below. You must address all relevant assessment criteria in your application. We will assess your application based on the weighting given to each technical criterion and against the non-weighted (non-technical) assessment criterion. We will only award funding to applicants that score satisfactorily against all criteria.

The amount of detail and supporting evidence you provide should be commensurate with the project size, complexity and grant amount requested. You should define, quantify and provide evidence to support your answers.

To support your responses you must include mandatory attachments later in the application.

I.1. Assessment criterion 1 (40 points)

Your response is limited to 5000 characters including spaces and does not support formatting.

Project Impact

Project Impact is the extent to which the project's research outputs will contribute to meaningful advances in health outcomes, practice and/or policy, consistent with the objectives and outcomes. The assessment of Project Impact will also consider the project's contribution to the objective of the Initiative and your statement against the MRFF Measures of Success.

In your response to this criterion, you should ensure that you:

- articulate how the program of research will address a systemic and significant health care or health system need that is of value to the community, health service providers, and health system managers
- demonstrate how the proposed program of research will strengthen capacity within the health sector for research, innovation and knowledge exchange
- demonstrate the involvement of consumers (including people with relevant lived experience and their carers), the community, health providers and/or other end users (e.g. health professionals, health services, and coordination mechanisms such as Primary Health Networks) in the project and how their needs, priorities, views and values have informed the research question and its conceptualisation, development and planned translation and implementation
- demonstrate the involvement of academic, industry, state/territory, and/or other partners in the project and how their needs and views have informed its conceptualisation, development and planned translation and implementation.

In addition, all applications that specifically focus on the health of Priority Populations (defined as Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander people, older people experiencing diseases of ageing, people with rare or currently untreatable diseases/conditions, people in rural/remote communities, people with a disability, individuals from culturally and linguistically diverse communities, LGBTIQ+ people, youth), should:

- describe how the proposed program of research will drive a transformative change in health practice and/or policy for that will be of value to the Priority Population
- describe how the proposed program of research will embed improvements to health care and/or the health system that will be acceptable (e.g. culturally appropriate) to the Priority Population
- demonstrate leadership by, and involvement of, the Priority Population in the project, and how their needs, views and values have informed its conceptualisation, development and planned implementation.

I.2. Assessment criterion 2 (30 points)

Your response is limited to 5000 characters including spaces and does not support formatting.

Project Methodology

Project Methodology is a description of the design and conduct of the proposed research in the form of a project plan. The assessment of Project Methodology will consider the scientific quality and feasibility of the project plan and its ability to deliver on the project's intended outcomes. Projects are expected to be original and build on (rather than duplicate) research that has already been undertaken.

In your response to this criterion, you should ensure you clearly articulate:

- the research question and the proposed approach for addressing it, including (as appropriate) tools and techniques, participants (e.g. diversity of participants), interventions, controls, statistical approaches, and strategies for data collection and use
- how the project applies evidence from foundational or proof of concept research to justify and inform the feasibility of the proposed approach
- how the project facilitates partnerships across the health sector, private sector and industry to establish a broad and inclusive program of research under a strong governance structure
- how consumers will be involved in the proposed research, including their contributions throughout the life of the project
- stepwise, measurable benchmarks and indicators for project and program progress to inform ongoing disbursement of funds.

In addition, all applications that specifically focus on the health of Priority Populations, should also articulate how the proposed methodology includes strong and meaningful leadership and involvement of the Priority Population, including its people, communities and organisations.

I.3. Assessment criterion 3 (30 points)

Your response is limited to 5000 characters including spaces and does not support formatting.

Capacity, Capability and Resources to Deliver the Project

Capacity, Capability and Resources is the relevant skills, knowledge, experience and resources the research team and any partners are contributing to the project. The assessment of Capacity, Capability and Resources will consider the overall composition of the research team, the contribution of individual researchers to the project, and the involvement of partners in the successful delivery of the project.

In your response to this criterion, you should ensure that you demonstrate:

- the research team has an appropriate mix of skills (e.g. scientific, project management, research translation, commercialisation) to implement an innovative and transformative research program
- the research team includes individuals that bring diverse experiences and expertise (e.g. across disciplines, genders, cultures, lived experience relevant to the research question, career stages and research sectors)
- the research team has the skills, experience and capacity to involve and support consumers (including those with lived experience) in the proposed research, and ensure that this is done appropriately and effectively
- the commitment of partners to the project and how any cash or in-kind contributions will support its successful delivery.

In addition, all applications that specifically focus on the health of Priority Populations, should demonstrate that the research team includes leadership by the Priority Population, and that the research team has experience in delivering translational research programs that have positively impacted health practices and/or policies of relevance to the Priority Population.

Each Chief Investigator should provide an example of how they have used their skills, knowledge and/or experience to contribute to meaningful advances in health outcomes, practice and/or policy relevant to the proposed research. Applicants should note that Chief Investigators may choose, but are not required, to provide elements of academic track record (e.g. publications, grants held, conference invitations) as evidence of impact at their own discretion.

I.4. Assessment criterion 4 (non-weighted)

Your response is limited to 5000 characters including spaces and does not support formatting.

Overall Value and Risk of the Project

Overall Value and Risk is the extent to which the project's research outputs will meaningfully contribute to the objective/s and intended outcomes of the grant opportunity, the Initiative, and the MRFF more broadly. Your response to this criterion will consist of your Measures of Success statement, proposed budget, and risk management plan submitted with your application.

The assessment of Overall Value and Risk will consider:

- the relative contribution of the outcomes or results you have identified in your Measures of Success statement to the intended outcomes of the grant opportunity, the goal and aims of the Initiative, and the MRFF
- the appropriateness of the requested budget (including the value and type of any cash or in-kind contributions and the eligibility of the proposed expenditure) to support successful delivery of the project, including whether it is sufficiently detailed and justified and represents value with relevant money
- the appropriateness of the risk management plan, including strategies for identifying, documenting, monitoring and reporting on key risks to the completion of the project, including any declared conflicts of interest relevant to the proposed research.
